

Pacific College of Oriental Medicine

Pacific College of Oriental Medicine (PCOM) is seeking a clinical supervisor at our San Diego campus. Prospective faculty will have exceptional communication skills, a passion for teaching and demonstrated knowledge of subject matter.

Clinical Supervisor Position Description and Qualifications

Clinical practice is one of the most important elements of the curriculum at PCOM. The clinical experience is where medical theory is translated to professional practice.

Minimum desired qualifications:

- Licensed for at least 5 years
- Valid California state acupuncture license
- Master's degree, DACM/DAOM preferred
- CPR certification
- Available Wednesday afternoons from 12:30-4:30pm

Communication Skills: Communication is vital and must occur at and among all levels in the organization for the mission to be accomplished. Below are some examples of what is expected with regard to communication skills in the clinic:

- Ability to clearly communicate so that students, patients and staff work together efficiently.
- Ability to communicate compassionately and with confidence to students, staff, and other faculty so that the students have a meaningful clinical experience, and patients receive quality care.
- Ability to efficiently use computers and the internet to stay informed, communicate via email, and complete online evaluations.

Professionalism:

- Ability to teach and practice east Asian medicine.
- Ability to chart accurately and demand the same from students.
- Outstanding needle technique; observing CNT and safety.
- Ability to design and instruct the preparation of raw herbal formulas.
- Ability to assist students in diagnosis based on objective and subjective data.
- Ability to recognize and manage medical and psychosocial emergencies.
- Familiarity with evidence informed practice.

Application Deadline: Friday, December 07, 2018. To apply, please send a cover letter and resume/CV to Leng Tang-Ritchie, DAOM, L.Ac. ( lritchie@pacificcollege.edu )

Pacific College of Oriental Medicine is one of the largest accredited institutions training professionals in the areas of Oriental medicine, acupuncture, massage and Chinese herbal medicine. Founded in 1986, with the mission of training primary healthcare providers in the field of Oriental medicine. Pacific College has campuses in New York, San Diego, and Chicago, and features an esteemed faculty of professors from around the globe that conduct ongoing research and educating approximately 1,000 students every year.

We offer the opportunity to work with a dynamic team of professionals. We are committed to creating a diverse community of faculty, staff, and students. Pacific College of Oriental Medicine is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Applicants are considered on the basis of their qualifications for the position without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, citizenship, age, marital status, disability, veteran's status or any other personal trait protected by federal, state or local law.